

Biography

Ju Lee Oei

Dr Oei is a senior neonatologist at the Royal Hospital for Women, Randwick, Conjoint Professor of Medicine at the University of New South Wales and Visiting Medical Officer in Addiction Medicine in Murrumbidgee Local Health District NSW. She is lead author of the 2023 Substance Use in Pregnancy and Parenting Guidelines for the NSW Ministry of Health, health lead of the 2022 Technical Report for the long-term care of children exposed to prenatal opioids for the United Nations Office of Drug Control, Vice Chair of the Ipokrates Foundation, the not for profit neonatal education foundation dedicated to disseminating global knowledge exchange for newborn medicine. At the Royal Australasian College of Physicians, she is current Chair of the Paediatric Research Committee, member of the Executive Council and Member of the College Journal Committee.

In March 2024, she was appointed as Editor in Chief of the Journal of Paediatrics and Child Health.

She has 175 research publications, is an author of >5 book chapters, editor of an upcoming book on Perinatal Substance Use and has an H-Index of 43.

Her research interests are in the use of oxygen for newborn infants and in substance use in pregnancy and parenting.